TO STOP INSANITY

New School of Medical Doctrine Being Studied

LARGE BEQUEST IS GIVEN

New Theory is Gaining Ground That Mental Derangement Arises From a Diseased Condition of the Blood and Not of the Brain.

NEW YORK, July 16.—A virtually new school of medical science, incalculable in its importance, is foreshadowed in the gift by Henry Phipps of $500,000 to the John's Hopkins University for the study of insanity. Mr. Phipps has figured in a number of bequests that had for their aim the amelioration for physical disorders. He gave $1,300,000 to found the Phipps institute for tuberculosis research in Philadelphia. But the gift to the Baltimore institution is perhaps even more important, from the fact that it means the beginning of a treatment on a big scale of the woes of the mentally unsound, whose humanitarian effects should be far-reaching. The purpose of the institution which Mr. Phipps has founded will be to devote special attention to the work of prevention, which necessarily includes the ability to make a correct diagnosis of each of these forms of disease which upset the delicate balances of the brain. The funds will pay for the erection of a four-story building on the grounds of the university to accommodate sixty patients, together with rooms for private patients, modern apparatus for use in the treatment of patients and laboratories for the investigation of mental abnormalities by pathological, chemical and psychological methods. One of the great recent discoveries as to the cause of mental diseases deals with the relieving of pressure on the brain. Surgeons have found that in many cases knocks sustained in youth, led to a permanent malformation of the skull, with the result that where an indentation had been made there was a pressure on the brain, which when removed permitted the brain to resume its normal condition. But now surgeons are working on a still more astonishing theory which is certain to receive attention at the newly endowed Phipps hospital. This theory shifts the cause of insanity from the brain to the blood. No anatomical investigation, microscopic or otherwise, has ever availed to show the least difference in the condition of the brain cell or fiber of a person dying insane or the healthy brain of a person dying in an accident. With any disease that effects the other vital organs of the body the ravages of the diseases can instantly be detected. Holes in the lungs show the presence of tuberculosis, hardening of the liver testifies that over-indulgence in liquor has done its dread work; holes in the intestines testify the dreadful effect of peritonitis, heart disease produces unmistakable symptoms on the organ that does blood pumping. But the brain tissues show nothing to indicate the mental disqualification of the deceased. This has led to the interesting theory, now held by many noted experts, that insanity is a disease of the blood and not of the brain. They present the argument that the most flawless piece of machinery is valueless without the fuel that drives, and so no matter how perfect the brain, in shape and size, it is of no value to its owner unless the right kind of blood be pumped through it. Help for Those Who Have Stomach Trouble. After doctoring for about twelve years for a bad stomach trouble, and spending nearly five hundred dollars for medicine and doctors' fees, I purchased my wife one box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, which did her so much good that she continued to use them and they have done her more good than all the medicine I bought before.—SAMUEL BOYER, Folsom, Iowa. This medicine is for sale by Frank Hart and leading druggists. Sample free.

PRIEST WAS TOO LATE

Wanted To Shrive Guiseppe Alia, Before He Was Hanged.

DENVER, July 16.—Believing that Guiseppe Alia, who died on the scaffold at Canon City last night for the murder of Father Leo Heinrich, would not be hanged until Friday, Father Bernhard, pastor of St. Elizabeths, the church in which the priest was killed at the altar, yesterday, despatched Wulstan to Canon City for the express purpose of seeing Alia and urging upon him repentance for his deed and to express to him the sympathy of the monks. It was Father Wulstan who administered the last sacrament of the church to Alia's dying victim and it was the desire that he perform the same service for Alia. He was selected for the mission because he was educated in Rome and speaks Italian as fluently as a native. Father Wulstan left shortly after noon, before his departure Father Bernard learned that Alia would be executed last night, ordered another priest to proceed to the state house to personally plead with Acting Gov. Harper for a commutation of the sentence to life imprisonment or until further efforts could be made to reclaim the condemned man. This priest explained to the governor that the priests of St. Elizabeths bore no ill will toward Father Leo's assassin but wished rather that he might live instead of going to his death with his soul unshriven. Acting Gov. Harper refused to grant the petition. Father Wulstan did not reach Canon City in time to see Alia but the prayers of the monks went up to heaven again last night in petition for the soul of Alia.

BANKERS CLOSED UP

NEW YORK, July 16.—The three banking places of Frank Zotti doing business as Frank Zotti and Company have been closed. A petition in bankruptcy was filed in the United States District Court by three creditors. Jesse Watson, who was appointed receiver by Judge Hough, said he expected that the liabilities to foreign bankers alone were $125,000 and the lawyers for Mr. Zotti said that the total would amount to about $1,000,000 and that it would be found that the assets were more than enough to take care of all claims.

In the affidavits it was said that more than 25 persons living in certain settlements in Pennsylvania, Michigan, Washington and Montana complained that they gave money to Mr. Zotti ranging in sums from $25 to $200 to be forwarded to friends or relatives in Europe and that money had been received by them.

THE SHERMAN ACT.

If any doubt remains on the subject of the intent of the Sherman Act it should be disposed of by the fact that after the courts had specifically applied the law to the actions of combinations of labor, not only did the Senate refuse to adopt an amendment offered by the House exempting combinations of labor from the operation of the act, but Senator Hoar declared on the floor of the Senate, February 21, 1901, that as chairman of the Judiciary Committee he had given several hearings to the representatives of labor organizations, and that the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers had agreed with him that the amendment exempting combinations of labor from the provisions of the act ought not to pass. So it appears of record that the representatives of the unions themselves, together with the distinguished senator whom they most frequently invoke to prove that the act was never intended to apply to them, were both agreed that labor organizations ought not to be exempted from the criminal provisions of the law.—American Industries.
